World History Syllabus

Course Description

This course will begin with a study of the civilizations to which our roots as humans can be traced to. The focus will then shift to early attempts to form kingdoms before learning about the Greek and Roman empires that provide our current society with the foundation that it is based on. The spread of these civilizations will be observed as it filters into European countries and has an incalculable effect there. The spread and increase of education and information that occurred during the Renaissance will show students the importance of studying subject matter in a way that will strengthen their faith in Christ and prevent them from falling prey to the changing ideas and views of society.

Major Topics

Foundations of History; Greek and Roman Empires; Byzantine and Islamic Empires; Asian and African civilizations; Medieval Europe; the Renaissance and Reformation; European exploration; the Enlightenment; European and American Revolution; World War I; the Great Depression; World War II; the Cold War.

Students will have a binder that they will work on throughout the year that will include the notes that are taken and other handouts assigned throughout the year. The binder will also give students the opportunity to write about and reflect on the subject matter and topics that are being studied.

Essays will also be assigned throughout the school year for the students to be able to learn about the effect that various individuals, movements and civilizations have had on the world at large. These essays will be submitted via the Turn It In website.
